-national harm reduction coalition.

RELAX

Access your mood

take a deep breath & gain your composure before preparing to inject drugs

breathe

Being relaxed, confident, & calm helps you take your time to inject hygienically & safely

when you're in withdrawal, anxious, angry, or upset it makes it more likely for things to go wrong when injecting drugs

Take your time

when you're in withdrawal, anxious, angry, or upset it makes it more likely for things to go wrong when injecting drugs

To reduce chances of infections, overdose, & vein damage find a place that is....

clean, dry, and well lit you've got adequate space for you & your equipment where you are less likely to be interrupted/ caught you have access to a sink, clean water, & soap where you feel comfortable where you can take your time!

shelter from the wind & the elements
